REQUISITES FOR ADMISSION.

Candidates for the Freshman Class are examined in the following studies :

ENGLISH—Grammar ; Reading ; Spelling and Composition.

MATHEMATICS—Arithmetic ; Algebra, to Quadratics ; Geometry, to and including the Theory of Circumference.

The candidate should be practiced in mental exercises in arithmetic, and should be acquainted with the decimal system of weights and measures, and also with circulating decimals and the extraction of the square root.

There are two examinations in Arithmetic. The first is on the primary rules, factoring, greatest common measure and least common multiple of integers, compound numbers, fractions and decimals. Until a student shows a good knowledge of this primary matter, he is not examined further. The second examination is on percentage and interest, circulates, greatest common measure and least common multiple of fractions, square root and the metric system. In Algebra much weight is given to the statement of problems in equations.

LATIN—Grammar, including Prosody ; Arnold's Prose Composition to Chapter X. ; Cæsar, Four Books ; Cicero, Six Orations ; Virgil, Four Books of the Æneid.

The English method of pronunciation is preferred.

GREEK—Grammar, including Prosody and Composition ; Xenophon's Anabasis, Three Books ; Homer's Iliad, One Book.

Goodwin's Grammar is used as a manual. Some simple Reader, or Companion Book of Exercises, should be used in connection with the Grammar.

GEOGRAPHY—Ancient and Modern.

ANCIENT HISTORY—Smith's History of Greece, to page 102; Liddell's History of Rome, Twenty-four Chapters.

History and Geography should be studied together. In reading Cæsar and Xenophon, there should be constant reference to the map.

MYTHOLOGY—A Hand-Book, such as Baird's Classical Manual, should be studied in connection with Virgil and Homer. A good Classical Dictionary, and a Dictionary of Antiquities are necessary to every classical student.

Candidates for advanced standing are examined in the above studies, and in the studies that have been pursued by the class.

Fair equivalents are received for any of the above named books, or for parts of them. The books named serve to indicate the amount required.

If a student is further advanced in some studies than in others, he may pursue the studies for which he is prepared. Opportunities are furnished such irregular students to make up the defective study.

Candidates for admission must present testimonials of good moral character; and if they come from other Colleges, certificates of dismissal in good standing.

The regular Examination for admission to College takes place on Monday preceding Commencement, beginning at 8:30 o'clock, A. M. Another Examination is held on the day before the opening of the Christmas Term, at the same hour. Students may be examined for an advanced standing at any time before the commencement of the second term of the Senior year.

General Information.

LOCATION.

Gambier is a small country village situated in the central part of Ohio, and is noted for its beautiful scenery, and its healthful and invigorating climate. No better place could well be found for quiet study, or for moral and religious culture. There are no saloons in the place. Gambier is distant by rail two hours from Columbus, five hours from Cleveland, and six hours from Cincinnati. The Station of the Mt. Vernon and Columbus Rail Road is immediately in the rear of the College grounds.

BUILDINGS AND GROUNDS.

The buildings are among the best in the United States. The Halls of the Literary Societies are unsurpassed. The College Park contains about a hundred acres, well shaded with maples, and with the grand old oaks of the native forest. To the east, the west, and the south, it slopes most beautifully toward the valley of the Kokosing.

TERMS AND VACATIONS.

ATTENDANCE.

Students not in their places at the opening of the Term must show by written statement from their parents or guardians that the absence was necessary.

No student shall be absent from Gambier during term time without special leave from the President.

Every student is required to attend punctually upon all the Academical and Religious exercises. In case of necessary absence from any exercise, the student must inform the officer in charge beforehand, if possible ; if not possible, he is required to present his excuse as soon as may be after the absence has occurred.

PUBLIC WORSHIP.

Students are required to attend Morning and Evening Prayers in the College Chapel, also the public Services on Sundays, and on the principal Holy-days of the Church.

MATRICULATION.

A student is admitted to matriculation when he has sustained a satisfactory probation. Matriculation gives accredited membership in the Institution, and entitles the student to an honorable dismissal. For misconduct, he may be reduced to the condition of a Probationer.

DISCIPLINE.

SEC. 79. The Faculty of the College earnestly desire that the students may be influenced to good conduct and literary exertion by higher motives than the fear of punishment, and it mainly relies for the success of the Institution, as designed for liberal education, on religious and moral principle, a sense of duty, and the generous feelings which belong to young men engaged in honorable pursuits ; but when such motives fail, the Faculty will use friendly caution and warning, admonition, and official notice of delinquency to parents and guardians, reduction of rank, refusal to grant privileges and indulgences allowed to meritorious students, withholding of honors which would otherwise be conferred ; and to suspension, removal or expulsion. Students will be required to observe the utmost decorum and courtesy towards each other at all times, and the practice of hazing will be rigorously suppressed.

DEGREES.

The Degrees of Bachelor of Arts is conferred upon all students in good standing who are approved at the final examinations of the Senior Class.

The Degree of Bachelor of Philosophy is conferred upon those who have successfully pursued the study of Modern Languages instead of Greek, and who have sustained satisfactory examinations upon all other studies of the regular course.

Candidates for the Degree of Master of Arts in course must show that they have, since taking the Bachelor's Degree, been engaged for three years in the study or practice of one of the learned professions, or in other scientific or literary pursuits; and each candidate must deliver to the Faculty an Essay upon some literary or scientific theme.

Application for the Master's Degree must be made to the President at least one week before Commencement.

The two Literary Societies, the Philomathesian and Nu Pi Kappa, have always been fostered by the College. The Society Halls are very commodious, and have been fitted up at great expense, occupying the whole of the second and third stories of the central portion of Ascension Hall. All the students are active members. The meetings are held every week, for practice in declamation, essay, oratory and discussion. These exercises, with the mutual criticism which forms a part of the regular work, and the generous rivalry maintained between the Societies, contribute very much to the education of the students as writers and speakers.

LIBRARIES.

The students have access to the Libraries of the Theological Seminary, Kenyon College, the Philomathesian Society, and the Nu Pi Kappa Society. The aggregate number of volumes in these four Libraries is about 22,000.

COLLEGE MAGAZINE.

The KENYON ADVANCE is published monthly during the College year, and is under the control of a Board of Editors chosen from among the students.

READING ROOMS.

Two Reading Rooms have been fitted up by the members of the Philomathesian and Nu Pi Kappa Societies, where copies of the leading English and American periodicals and newspapers are kept on file.

ASSISTANCE.

Tuition fees are remitted to the sons of clergymen of the Protestant Episcopal church.

The College Fees of other students of superior merit may be remitted in part or in whole upon application to the President.

SCHOLARSHIPS.

A perpetual scholarship has been founded by MRS. MARY N. BLISS, of Columbus, by the gift of $1,000. The income of this scholarship will be given to some student of high character and ability, who shall be nominated by the President and approved by the Faculty of the College, the preference to be given, other things being equal, to a resident of the city of Columbus.

Other friends have indicated their purpose to give, annually, sums varying from $100 to $200 to aid in the education of students of the highest order of character and ability.

These Scholarships will ordinarily be given only to those who have proved their superiority by success in College work, and to those who stand highest at the entrance examinations.

BOARDING AND LODGING.

Dormitories are provided in the College buildings in which all students must lodge, unless they obtain permission from the President to room elsewhere. The College makes no special provision for board. This can be readily obtained in private families, or, at times, in clubs.

EXPENSES.

Each room is sufficiently large and convenient to accommodate two students. The rooms are provided with stoves, and are neatly painted and papered by the College. Students provide their own beds, furniture, light, books, and stationery. Furniture can often be bought, as well as sold, at second-hand, and the expense incurred by its use need not be great.

The College charges are: For Tuition, $10 per term—for Room Rent $5 per term—and for Incidentals $10 per annum. A Matriculation fee of $5 is charged to every student at his entrance. There are also some minor expenses, consisting of taxes voluntarily imposed by the students in their Classes and Literary Societies, and the expenses of graduation.

Every student on entering the College must deposit $5 with the Treasurer, as security for damage. The charges on this fund have averaged less than one dollar per year to each student. The balance is returned to the student on leaving.

When a student is absent for a Term, and is afterwards, upon examination, allowed to go on with his class, tuition is charged for the time of his absence. Room rent is charged when a room is reserved for a student.

Fuel is supplied by the Agent of the College, and must be paid for in advance, at the same time with the bill for tuition. The charge is $6 per term for the first and second term, and $2 for the third term, and twice these sums when a room is occupied by a single student.

Board in private families costs from $3 to $3.50 per week. Clubs are sometimes formed and the expense for board is thereby materially reduced.

Students are not allowed to board themselves in their rooms, as this practice has been found to be perilous to good health.

The following estimate may be given of the necessary annual expenses, not including expenses in vacations :

Tuition	Free	$ 30
Room Rent	Free	15
Incidentals	$10	10
Fuel	15	30
Board	95	133
Washing	15	20
Lights	3	5
Total	$138	$243

Other incidental expenses, such as books and stationery, furniture, expenses in societies, traveling expenses, etc., vary according to circumstances, and the character and habits of the individual student.

The College bill must be paid in advance, according to the following rule of the Trustees.

“All students shall be required to pay their regular term bills in advance. The Treasurer’s receipt shall be required by the President before he shall sign a certificate of Matriculation, or, after the first term, before the student shall attend recitation.”

PROVISION FOR IRREGULAR STUDENTS.

Students who do not desire to graduate may enter at any time, and take any studies which they are prepared to prosecute to advantage.

PROVISION FOR INSTRUCTION PREPARATORY TO ENTERING COLLEGE.

To meet the wants of older students who have not yet completed their preparatory studies, arrangements have been made whereby they can take rooms in the College buildings, board in the village, and recite as day pupils at Milnor Hall. Such students will be responsible for good conduct to the College Faculty, and will not be allowed to remain should their behavior be at all objectionable. The expenses to students of this class for tuition, board, room rent, fuel, lights, and washing, will be less than $200 per annum.

Advantages Offered by Kenyon College.

[From a leading article in The Standard of the Cross.]

Kenyon can offer many strong claims for our patronage. In her reputation and her high standard of scholarship she has a great advantage over most Western colleges. In point of expense, in nearness to our homes, in close relation between professors and students, she has an advantage over Eastern colleges; and in moral tone and religious influence she has, we think, a decided advantage over most other colleges whether East or West. Very few Western colleges have maintained as high a standard as Kenyon; and as a consequence very few have so good a reputation.

The greater cheapness of living at Gambier is a great advantage over the leading Eastern colleges. President Eliot, of Harvard, in his recent annual report gives four scales of expenditure for students at Harvard. He gives $615 as an "economical," $830 as a "moderate," $1,365 as an "ample" annual expenditure. Thus making $2,460 an "economical" provision for the college course, $3,320 a "moderate" provision, $5,460 an "ample" provision. President Eliot's statement was made to show that the necessary cost at Harvard was not much greater than at other leading Eastern colleges; but it is two or three times greater than at Gambier. To very wealthy parents, a large scale of expenditure may seem an advantage, and yet, to those who see that nine are ruined, morally or financially, by extravagance, where one is harmed by economy, it seems wise that during the formative period of college life, the tendency to extravagance should be repressed rather than encouraged.

Kenyon has for us another advantage over the Eastern colleges in its nearness to our Ohio homes. One leaving Cleveland or Cincinnati in the morning can dine at noon at Gambier. The home influence ought to be maintained at its maximum, and its power is very apt to be like that of attraction—"inversely as the square of the distance." The attractive power is in danger of becoming very weak as it stretches across the Alleghanies, and on toward the seaboard. There is also, doubtless, a much closer relation between professors and students at Kenyon, than at the great Eastern colleges. At Kenyon the professors come into close personal relations with the students. They know each man well, and feel a personal interest in him; and are often able to exert a personal influence over him, which is worth more than any amount of mere instruction could be. Where the classes are too large this close interest and influence cannot exist.

If intellectual culture were the only object, it is believed that it would be wise for our people to send their sons to Kenyon. But intellectual culture ought not to be the only object. Throughout Christian character is worth more than any measure of mental endowment—worth more as a personal possession—worth more as an outward influence—worth more, even as mercantile capital. In these days of rich insolvencies, and respectable defalcation, and pious embezzlements, real Christian character is to be more and more at a premium. For the building up of such a character Kenyon has great advantages. In too many of our colleges Christianity is almost overlooked. And in too many others it is so presented that it does not attract the noblest natures, nor do the best work. Christianity is too often so presented to young men that they think of it as a blind belief in a system of doctrines which have no logical relation to a good life, and as tending to produce either the outgushing of a feeble emotionalism, or the timid unreasoning of a credulous faith. It ought to be so presented that they will think of it as an intelligent, loving obedience to a system of truth which has the closest logical relation to a good life—a system of truth whose real tendency is, not to make reason receive from faith the check of any timidity, but rather, to make reason receive from faith the stimulus of the grandest courage—that courage which dares to trust the eternal excellence and the eternal safety of truth. Christianity is an adequate cause for the production of all that is strongest, and truest, and bravest, and noblest, in human character. It ought to be so presented that it will be seen to be such a cause, and felt to be such a cause. We believe that it is so presented at Gambier.

To Wealthy Friends of Kenyon College.

The Institutions at Gambier have now property and endowments valued at nearly Five Hundred Thousand Dollars, (the property consisting chiefly of a most attractive College Park, and buildings of the highest order.) The sum total of all amounts heretofore contributed to these Institutions is Four Hundred Thousand Dollars. This increase of value gives evidence of good business management.

More than three-fourths of the money already given has come from liberal friends living outside the state of Ohio. That this should be the case is not perhaps to be wondered at, for, until recent years, the wealth of the citizens of Ohio has not been large. Now, however, Ohio is great, not only in the influence of her public men, in her manufacturing establishments, her agricultural resources, and mineral treasure, but also in her accumulated capital.

The cause of higher education is of the very first importance. In a land like ours one moves the masses by moving the leaders. How necessary then that those who are to be leaders should be wisely guided, and rightly trained so that "peace and happiness, truth and justice, religion and piety may be established among us for all generations."

In our eastern states this is now widely felt and largely recognized, so that public spirited and liberal citizens of those states have of late contributed millions of dollars to their leading Colleges. Increased facilities have thus been provided, and great advances have been made. Has not the time come for a like movement in Ohio? Can any sufficient reason be given why the great state of Ohio should not have one or two colleges equal to any in the United States? *

Kenyon College was one of the first established in the West. It has been in existence only fifty years, yet it has already accomplished wonders. The sons of Kenyon have obtained positions of the highest eminence in church and state.

To-day Kenyon has a splendid foundation in its unsurpassed location, its superior buildings, its reputation for thorough work. Nothing is needed but development that Kenyon may become the peer of any college in our country.

Many of Kenyon's friends now believe that the time has come for an advance movement. Kenyon's merits must be made known, that so students may be attracted. Kenyon's resources must be developed, that so she may become strong for her noble work.

A great college, however, cannot be made without large gifts of money. Colleges are like Hospitals in that they do not so much depend upon fees as upon endowments. All our great colleges are largely endowed. Kenyon cannot be built up without liberal gifts.

The aim of Kenyon College has been and is to furnish sound learning under the best Christian influences—the influences of the Protestant Episcopal Church. Kenyon's purpose is to train young men so that they may steadfastly hold to "the true, the beautiful, the good." The highest education is not that which develops the intellect alone, but that which also rightly influences the feelings and shapes the will for glorious ends. Kenyon therefore labors to combine thoroughness of mental training with nobleness of Christian character.

Such an Institution deserves large and liberal aid. It is hoped that some will wisely choose to be their own executors, and to give of their abundance whilst they are yet living. Experience, however, has shown that the large donations needed for the upbuilding of a great college ordinarily come through bequests. There are many church men and church women in Ohio and the States adjoining, whom God has made custodians of wealth, who have no near relatives as heirs. To such Kenyon College most strongly appeals.

BEQUESTS.

(Extract from a convention address by Bishop Bedell.)

Another topic of which we are forcibly reminded by this long record of deaths, is the importance of making provision by will, for interests which have a right to look to us for maintenance.

Probably most of the Christian men and women who have died during the past year in our Diocese, have left wills; but it does not appear that in the distribution of wealth they have heeded the claims of Christian or Church fellowship.

Perhaps our clergy may be somewhat in fault for not preaching on this double topic; namely, the religious duty of making a will; and the obligations of making it rightly. Let us not be derelict in exhortations in this regard. Our church presses it on us in wise and weighty words. In the Visitation of the Sick, besides other advice, the Church instructs the Minister that, "if the sick person hath not before disposed of his goods, he should then be admonished to make his will, and to declare his debts, what he oweth, and what is owing unto him, for the better discharging of his conscience and the quieting of his executors." And "the minister shall not omit earnestly to move such sick persons as are of ability, to be liberal to the poor." "But"—and these are the words to which I wish to call special attention—"men should often be put in remembrance, to take order for the settling of their temporal estates, whilst they are in health."

And therefore, to-day, whilst you are "in good health," as bidden by my office, and as pressed by much experience, I earnestly urge upon you, brethren of the clergy and laity, to take order for settling your temporal estates as becometh the responsibility resting on you as Christians and churchmen.

First, let me advise that you avail yourselves of the best legal counsel, in drawing a paper so critically important as every will must be, remembering that it behooves you to bring quiet to "your executors," and to save your heirs from discord, and the pecuniary loss which accompanies it. Especially, it is to be borne in mind that the State, in all ages, has shown itself jealous of mortuary gifts to charity, or for church purposes; and that, therefore, every legal form, in respect to these, is to be scrupulously observed.

Next; let the claims of right and justice be foremost in your thoughts; the claims of family and kindred, and of creditors. Then, next; you will be free to weigh the claims of social and religious charities, and of the institutions of the church. As the scriptural rule certainly indicates that one-tenth of every person's income should be devoted to the service of God, so it ought to press on every conscience, in those solemn hours when death is looked in the face, that one-tenth of all one's worldly possessions should be consecrated as legacy to the Lord.

This one-tenth is the least proportion that can meet the divine rule. But the Gospel removes that limit; and suggests that earnest devotion to Christ will not satisfy itself with a measure that was intended primarily to gauge the duty of the Jews. Christian love—when making gifts during life, or providing for legacies payable after death—will not content itself with less than a generous percentage on income or estate. This percentage should be measured by a sense of obligation to Christ, and of each one's bounden duty to relieve the sorrows and needs of that distressed humanity which Christ redeemed with His precious blood; for Christ has left the amelioration of these woes to the conscience and charity of his followers.

If it be said that it is wiser to complete one's charities during life, whilst they can be properly guided and guarded, the answer is obvious. Certainly, let every possible provision of benevolence, or beneficence, be made whilst one's will and generosity can control it. But, unless a Christian can do some deed of loving supererogation, I do not see how the meeting of all possible righteous or charitable claims on his income during life will compensate for a neglect to contribute a just share of his property to meet such claims on his estate, after he is dead.

It is well to trust one's heirs, that they will do their duty; but it is safer and wiser to do one's duty for oneself; and not to impose an obligation on others to which they may possibly be reluctant.

In this peculiarly reckless and improvident age, when nothing is more noteworthy than the melting away and utter dissipation of great estates, after the death of an accumulator, it would seem as if no argument were needed to enforce this subject. The grand charities of the world, glorious intellectual treasures, libraries, schools, universities, are chiefly the results of legacies. Some few persons in our own day have set a noble example by such endowments while living. Great souls! They ennoble their generation. But this is seldom possible. In the Providence of God our age and our church must wait until its children pass from this stage before we shall see great charitable or educational foundations firmly and generously laid. It must result from bequests.

Wants of the College.

One of the greatest needs of the institution was met a few years ago by the erection of the new College chapel. It is a poem in stone and mortar, most exquisitely beautiful. Used, as it is, for daily college prayer, it has a steady influence for good.

The Cincinnati Gazette speaks of it as follows:

"Mr. George A. Benedict, editor of the Cleveland Herald, was one of the delegates to the late Episcopal Convention held at Gambier, the seat of Kenyon College. For the first time Mr. Benedict saw the College Chapel—the Church of the Holy Spirit—and, like all who have eyes and taste, went into raptures over it. He devoted over a column of the Herald to a description, and lamented that none of the Cleveland churches were like the beautiful Chapel. He calls it the 'most beautiful church in the country,' and adds that 'it is pronounced by people much traveled abroad to be as beautiful a church as there is in any country.' Mr. Benedict goes on to say that the Church of the Holy Spirit is fine in its architecture and perfect in its proportions. 'But the crowning glory of the Church of the Holy Spirit is its teachings in every window, in all its carvings, in its illuminated wall texts, in its ceiling and in its everything. That church is a biblical study. It is cheerful; there is nothing the least gloomy about it, and the most irreverent intuitively would take off his hat when he entered it, for it is the beauty of holiness. Its construction was due to the liberality of the former parishioners of Bishop Bedell, of the Church of the Ascension, New York; and those munificent donors have planted a thing of beauty, 'a joy forever,' on as exquisite a site as ever was graced by the house of God.'"

Many other needs however, remain, chief among which are :

(1.) THE ENDOWMENT OF PROFESSORSHIPS.—The existing chairs of Latin and Greek are not endowed. The McIlvaine chair of English is but partially endowed. There is also pressing need for a chair of Modern Languages. The sum of twenty-five thousand dollars will endow a Professorship to be named as the donor may direct.

(2.) MONEY FOR SCHOLARSHIPS.—There are many gifted young men who are shut out from the advantages of a collegiate training because they have not the means. In the leading Eastern Colleges, provision has been made for such by scholarships, the annual income of which is appropriated by the Faculty to students of superior character and ability.

In this way the best only are aided. From their education, society derives large returns.

The sum of two hundred dollars a year will cover the necessary expenses of a student in Kenyon College. Even smaller sums may be used to great advantage.

Temporary scholarships may be established by annual gifts. Permanent scholarships may be founded by gifts ranging from one to three thousand dollars. These should ordinarily be memorial scholarships to be named as the donor may direct.

The following letter from President Hayes bears upon this topic :

“Since I saw you on Commencement Day, I have been thinking of the project you named to me of establishing a system of prizes by which a few of the best scholars in the public schools of the State would have an opportunity of obtaining a liberal education at Kenyon College. The more I think of it, the more desirous I am that the plan should have a fair trial. There can be no doubt of its success, if some public spirited and liberal friend of education, and of Kenyon College, can be induced to furnish the funds. Our public schools are excellent, and are improving. The offer of such an inducement as you suggest, will put a large number of their scholars diligently to work preparing to compete for the scholarships. Any gentleman who desires to do great good, and at the same time to have his name widely and permanently cherished in connection with a most meritorious public benefaction, will hardly find a better way of doing it than the one which you propose. I feel an especial interest in it, both for the sake of our public schools, and for much loved old Kenyon. If in any way I can aid you, do not hesitate to call on me.

Very Respectfully,

Your Friend,

R. B. HAYES."

(3.) A new Gymnasium would be of large advantage.

(4.) It has been proposed that Rosse Hall should be converted into a fire-proof Library and Reading Room. The cost of this would not be very large, while the advantages would be very great.

Milnor Hall,

THE

GRAMMAR SCHOOL OF KENYON COLLEGE.

1878-79.

Docte et Perite Facere.

PRINCIPAL,
JAMES P. NELSON, C. E. & M. E.

ASSISTANTS,
WIRT MINOR, M. A.,
WILLIS M. TOWNSEND, CHAS. D. WILLIAMS.

MATRON,
MRS. M. W. M. NELSON.

DESIGN.

The design of the College in establishing the Grammar School was to provide an Institution where, under Christian and home influences boys might be thoroughly prepared to enter College. The Principal will do his utmost to carry out this design: he will have as his assistants men of peculiar aptness for teaching.

The School is under the general supervision of the Board of Trustees of the College. The Principal was appointed by the President and Faculty of the College, and thus there is afforded the public a guarantee of his fitness to direct the details of the School. In these details the Principal has entire control.

The buildings occupied by the school are about three quarters of a mile distant from the College. The scholars live in the same building with the Principal and his assistants, and take their meals at the same table. They are thus brought under the personal control of the teachers, and the school is made a home. The intercourse between teachers and scholars is free and cordial. The scholars are allowed and encouraged at all times to seek help from the teachers, and thus the most valuable instruction is constantly imparted, as well outside of, as during study hours. Certain restraints are necessarily imposed upon all, but none of them are such as to prove irksome even to the oldest scholar.

THE HOUSEHOLD DEPARTMENT.

Under the management of the Matron, the Household Department is so regulated as to relieve the scholars of all care as to their washing and mending. The rooms are neatly furnished with single beds, and all other necessary furniture. They are well ventilated and lighted. A janitor attends to them every morning, and all the lamps are filled by him.

COURSE OF INSTRUCTION.

The course of instruction is specially adapted to prepare boys for College. At the same time no pains will be spared to supply the wants of those who desire to enter upon business life. Those who are able to spend but a short time at school can pursue the study of selected branches. Teachers in our district schools might derive great benefit from even a few months attendance at the Hall.

I. English Branches.

Grammar is taught by text-books, and by frequent practice in writing original compositions. Care is taken to correct errors of speech.

Orthography is taught by dictation exercises, and the use of Worcester's Dictionary.

Penmanship and Reading are taught to those who need instruction therein. Reading, as an art, is taught to older scholars.

History forms a part of the regular Preparatory Course.

TEXT BOOKS.—Swinton's Grammars; Whitney's Grammar; Green's Analysis; Hart's Rhetoric; Worcester's Dictionary; Westlake's Three Thousand Words; Holmes' Readers; Maury's

Geographies; Smith's Bible History; the Bible; Young's Ancient History; Smith's History of Greece; Liddell's History of Rome; Student's Modern Histories; Stephens' History United States; Spencerian System of Penmanship.

2. The Latin and Greek Languages.

Boys who wish to be well prepared for admission to College should, if possible, begin the study of Latin and Greek at an early age; and parents, who have marked out for their sons a regular course of collegiate training, would do well to send them to the Grammar school so soon as they are able to read with moderate ease, to write, and to use the elementary rules in arithmetic. Much valuable time will thereby be saved, inasmuch as, in most of our High schools, attention is given to studies which not only are of no avail in an examination for entrance to college, but which ordinarily receive much fuller consideration in the regular College course.

As the Grammar School is largely a classical school, the great benefit to be derived from the study of Latin and Greek is constantly impressed upon the scholars.

TEXT BOOKS.—Gildersleeve's Latin Primer, Reader, Grammar and Exercise Book; Cæsar, Virgil, Cicero, and such other authors as may be required.

3. The Mathematics.

In addition to the regular Preparatory Course in Mathematics, which embraces a considerable part of Algebra and Geometry, instruction will be given, when needed, in Commercial Arithmetic and Book-keeping. The Metric System and Circulating Decimals are thoroughly taught. Elementary Algebra is completed, so that before entering college, a scholar may get a very good knowledge of the entire Algebra, so far as its practical purposes are concerned.

TEXT BOOKS.—Venable's Series of Arithmetics; Ray's Arithmetics; Venable's Elementary Algebra; Ray's Higher Algebra; Tappan's Geometry, and such other more advanced texts as may be required,—the English texts being preferred.

4. Modern Languages.

French and German will be thoroughly taught to those who desire instruction therein.

5. The Sciences.

The Sciences belong properly to the college course; when desired, however, instruction will be given in Chemistry and Natural Philosophy.

LENGTH OF PREPARATORY COURSE.

The preparatory course should ordinarily cover three or four years of diligent study. For those who have attained considerable maturity of mind and character, less time is required.

DISCIPLINE.

The system of discipline, and the general management of the School are based on the principle that the authority of the parent is supreme to the child, and that the teacher in charge of a school stands in the place of the parent. Implicit obedience is required from every scholar. The conscience of the scholar and his own instincts as to right and wrong are appealed to, so as to make him manly and self-reliant. The only laws are those needed in every large family to insure regularity, comfort, and perfect harmony of action.

No scholar who shows himself to be incorrigible, or whose presence in the school would be hurtful to the rest of the scholars, will be suffered to remain.

EXAMINATIONS AND REPORTS.

Examinations are held at the close of each half-session; by these the progress of the scholar is determined.

*Monthly reports will be sent to the parents of each scholar, indicating his standing in his classes, and his general deportment. Parents are particularly requested to take notice of these reports and to keep themselves informed thereby of the progress and behavior of their sons.

PRIZES.

Medals and valuable books will be given as prizes to those scholars who reach a certain high grade of scholarship.

LITERARY ADVANTAGES.

The College libraries contain 22,000 volumes, covering every department of literature. By the payment of a small fee the scholars of the Hall have access to these libraries. They may also attend, as visitors, upon the exercises of the Literary Societies of the College.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES.

The School is the Diocesan School of the Protestant Episcopal Church for the Dioceses of Ohio and Southern Ohio. As a Church

*No scholar who fails to answer a certain percentage of the questions in these examinations will be allowed to pass into a higher class; nor will any so failing be recommended for the entrance examinations to College.

School it secures to its patrons an education based on Christian principles.

The scholars attend daily evening prayer at the Chapel of the College, and also the public religious worship of the Lord's day.

RELIGIOUS INSTRUCTION.

On Sunday afternoons the Principal gives instruction upon the Collect, Epistle, and Gospel for the day, with practical suggestions bearing upon the daily lives of the scholars. This teaching is not Sectarian. Some guide must be followed, and none has been found more useful than that portion of the book of Common Prayer which contains the choicest treasures of God's Word.

LITERARY SOCIETY.

A literary society has been organized in the School under the name of the Rho Mu Alpha Society, the management of which is entirely in the hands of the scholars. It has been found to be very useful.

PHYSICAL EXERCISE.

Every effort is made to encourage physical culture. The play grounds are ample, and the Principal provides means for engaging in sports of a healthy nature.

The gymnasium of the College, which is well provided with apparatus, is open to the pupils of the Hall. The Kokosing river, which is near at hand, affords ample opportunities for bathing and skating.

EXPENSES.

The charge for Tuition, Board, Fuel, Lights, and Washing, is $300 for the entire session. This is payable as follows: $150 on entrance, the balance the first day of February thereafter. There are no extra charges.

Pupils who are a month late in entering will be charged at the rate of $35 per month for the remainder of the half-session.

The charge for tuition alone will be $30 per session, payable semi-annually in advance.

A deposit of $5 will be required from each pupil to cover damages done to the property of the School. Whatever is not required in payment of such damages will be promptly returned.

REMARKS.

 Particular attention is called to the home features of the School. The family sitting room is open at all times for the use of the scholars.

☞ No deduction will be made for absence, nor can any fees be refunded when a scholar is withdrawn, except in cases of serious sickness. Should a scholar be withdrawn at the request of the Principal, there will be refunded $25 per month for the unexpired time which has been paid for.

☞ No scholars will be allowed to occupy rooms in Milnor Hall unless they board with the Principal.

☞ The weekly holiday of the School is Monday in place of Saturday, the usual holiday elsewhere.

☞ No Boarding pupils will be allowed to spend the night out of the School.

☞ In all matters parents are requested to communicate directly with the Principal. He cannot act upon messages received at second-hand.

☞ Scholars are not allowed to have any fire-arms in their possession.

☞ Address all letters to the care of the School. Scholars are not allowed to have private boxes in the post-office.

☞ For any further information, please address the Principal.

SESSION.

The Session begins the first Thursday in September, and closes the last Thursday in June. There are two vacations of two weeks each, one at Christmas, and one at Easter. Pupils desiring to remain at the School during these vacations, can do so at a charge of twelve dollars for each vacation. For all who remain there will be regular recitations.

☞ A deduction of 20 per cent. will be allowed the Sons of clergymen.

☞ Unless otherwise agreed, every pupil is received for the entire session, or for the half-session for which he enters.

Books and stationery are furnished by the Principal. At least fifteen dollars must be deposited to cover this expense. Pocket-money will be supplied to scholars when a deposit for that purpose has been made. Two dollars a month is deemed to be an ample allowance for a young boy.

It will be seen that the first payment, including all deposits, will be $180.

REQUISITES.

Each scholar must bring with him a coverlid, two pair of sheets and blankets (single), pillow cases, towels, napkins, napkin ring, and clothes bag. Each article of clothing, and everything else brought by the pupil, should be plainly marked with his full name. No unmarked clothing will be allowed in the laundry. An umbrella and a pair of overshoes are absolutely necessary.

UNIFORM.

For such a school as Milnor Hall there are great advantages in uniformity of dress, (1.) In the matter of expense. (2.) As a great help in producing a feeling of "Esprit du corps" among the scholars, leading them to be careful lest they should discredit the organization, the badge of which they wear. (3.) As a means of avoiding unpleasant comparisons by placing all upon the same footing in the matter of dress.

A uniform has been adopted for the School, consisting of coat, pants and vest of the finest West Point Cadet gray cloth, trimmed with neat brass buttons and a small black stripe. The uniform is such that, by removing the trimmings, it will answer for wear when the scholars are away from the School. It is distinctive, but not peculiar.

The cost of each suit will vary from $20 to $25, depending upon the size of the wearer. A sample of the cloth used will be sent upon application. The quality of the goods and the workmanship are guaranteed to be of the very best.

Scholars who expect to stay but a few months will not be required to wear the uniform.

Two suits a year will answer all ordinary purposes.

ADMISSION.

Any candidate for Orders in the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States may, on examination, be received as a student in the Seminary; and any other person who may give sufficient evidence of a fair moral and religious character.

EXAMINATIONS.

Candidates for the Ministry who take this course must exhibit the permission of their Bishop.

A public examination of each class is held previous to the Annual Commencement; and certificates are awarded to those who, on the final examination, are found to have successfully pursued the full course of study.

Harcourt Place Academy,

A PRIVATE SCHOOL FOR BOYS,

Founded by Rev. Alfred Blake, D. D.

J. D. H. McKINLEY, Principal.

This school has been in successful operation for twenty-seven years, and is designed to furnish a pleasant and healthful home for boys, where a kind and constant supervision is exercised over their physical, moral and intellectual education.

The studies are arranged to accommodate two classes of pupils. The Classical Course is intended to fit boys for admission to College; the Commercial, to give an efficient preparation for the ordinary pursuits of life.

Parents are requested to advise with the Principal as to the course of study to be pursued by their sons, and will be kept informed as to their progress by monthly reports and special communications, whenever the Principal shall deem the latter to be necessary.

The discipline of the school is as nearly parental as possible. It is the earnest endeavor of the Principal to secure the aid of his pupils in the government of themselves, thus forming the basis of a manly, independent character. The rules are few in number but are firmly enforced.

To guard against the admission of any boys of vicious habits, all applicants must be well recommended to the Principal. Any boy found to be vicious or insubordinate, after becoming a member of the school, will be promptly dismissed.

The domestic department is under the care of Mrs. Blake and the Matron, who have been connected with the school since its foundation.

The grounds of the school are thirteen acres in extent, and are beautifully shaded with fruit, ornamental and forest trees. The Kokosing river is distant only a quarter of a mile, and affords fine advantages for boating, skating and bathing. The forests and fields in the neighborhood contain an abundance of small game, which, at proper times, and with the Principal's permission, the pupils are allowed to hunt.

As an aid to the proper physical education of the pupils, a gymnasium has recently been fitted up, containing such apparatus as is best suited to develop the muscles with the least risk of injuring the health. The pupils are also encouraged to engage in all out-of-door sports and pastimes.

Pupils will not be allowed to receive or read any vicious or sensational publications. The Principal will see that they are supplied with literature of a healthy and manly tone, and a constant effort will be made to develop an honest, truthful, Christian character.

Each pupil is expected to bring with him a Bible, three sheets, single, unless in the case of brothers who wish to sleep together, two pillow-cases, six towels, six table napkins, a napkin ring and umbrella, all plainly marked.

The number of pupils is limited to twenty-five.

The school year is divided into two sessions of twenty weeks each.

Historical and Topographical Sketch.

THE original object in founding these Institutions was the rearing up of ministers of the Gospel in the midst of the habits and circumstances, and with all the facilities of economy peculiar to the western country, with especial reference to western wants. The first incorporation, therefore, was under the name of the "Theological Seminary of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Ohio"; and in that character, the Institution was opened for elementary instruction, at Worthington, near Columbus, in 1825.

Subsequently, as pupils in elementary science and the classics increased, an act of the Legislature was obtained, by which the President and Professors were constituted the Faculty of a College, by the name of Kenyon College; and the Institution, thus modified and enlarged, was transferred from Worthington to Gambier, its present site. The removal was effected in June, 1828.

The operations of the Institution, as a Seminary of learning, for some years after its transfer to Gambier, as well as at Worthington before, were—under the circumstances of its organization—almost exclusively academic; and in this department, therefore, were instituted the first Professorships. That of Latin and Greek, the first in order, was filled as early as the year 1825; that of Intellectual and Moral Philosophy in 1829; Mathematics and Natural Philosophy, and Chemistry, in 1830; Logic and Rhetoric in 1834; Mathematics, and Civil Engineering, separate from Natural Philosophy and Chemistry, in 1854; and English Literature and History in 1856.

In the Theological Department, the first Professorship, that of Systematic Divinity, was filled in 1830; Ecclesiastical Polity, Pastoral Divinity, and Sacred Literature, in 1833; Ecclesiastical History in 1837; and Pastoral Theology, separately, in 1860.

These appointments and dates show the rise and progress of the institution, under its venerable founder and his successors in office.

The interior government of the entire institution was, at first, vested in one joint Faculty, composed of the Professors in Arts and Theology, by whom degrees were conferred and other acts performed for both departments. A further act of the Legislature was obtained in 1839, under which, in 1840, the mixed Faculty was resolved into two—one of Theology and one of Arts—by whom the two Schools have since been administered separately.

Under this system, degrees in Arts and Academic degrees generally, are conferred by the Faculty of Arts, acting under the name of "The President and Professors of Kenyon College," and degrees in Divinity, by the Theological Faculty, under the name of "The President and Professors of the Theological Seminary of the Diocese of Ohio."

There has also been constituted, as auxiliary to the College, a Preparatory School. The entire institution now consists of three distinct Schools:—the Theological Seminary, Kenyon College, and the Grammar School.

The tract upon which these Institutions are located, was originally purchased for the present object, by Bishop Chase, in the year 1826, from William Hogg, Esq., of Brownsville, Pa.

The situation is admirable in point of natural beauty, healthiness, and convenience of access; and is in every respect well adapted to the purpose of a Seminary of Learning on the largest and most liberal scale. It has an easy communication by Railroad, with Cleveland and Sandusky on the north, and with Columbus and Cincinnati on the south.

The particular site of the College and other buildings is an elevated ridge or headland jutting out from the general slope of the hills on the north side of the valley of the Kokosing River. The table land at the top of this ridge, from one to five hundred yards wide, affords an irregular area, somewhat undulating, but generally elevated about 150 feet above the stream. This is occupied by the village of Gambier, with the buildings of the different institutions commodiously and tastefully disposed around it.

On a knoll somewhat elevated above the plat of the village, and about a quarter of a mile north, is the beautiful building of Bexley Hall, erected for the exclusive use of the Theological Seminary. It was commenced in 1841, and not fully completed until 1859. It contains the Library of the institution, about seven thousand volumes, and furnishes rooms, each with separate bedrooms, sufficient to accommodate thirty-four students.

About five hundred yards in the opposite direction, and near the southernmost point of the plateau, stands the more massive and venerable edifice of Kenyon College, fronting north, and overlooking the valley of the Kokosing, to the distance of several miles in all directions. This building is of plain stone, 190 feet long, and four stories high, including the basement; with battlements, pinnacles, belfry, and a spire 117 feet high. It contains upwards of fifty rooms for students; also the Libraries of the Philomathesian and Nu Pi Kappa Societies, between four and five thousand volumes in each.

About 200 yards north, and a little west, is Rosse Hall (formerly Rosse Chapel), a substantial stone building, in Ionic architecture. The foundations of this building were laid by Bishop Chase, and the walls laid to the floor; the present building was erected, with some variations from the original plan, in 1836, and was occupied as the parish Church of Harcourt Parish till May, 1871. It is used on Commencement and other occasions, and is capable of accommodating nearly one thousand persons.

About midway between Kenyon College and Rosse Hall, and about sixty yards east of the latter building, fronting the west, stands Ascension Hall, erected in 1860, 171 feet long and four stories high, including the basement. The walls throughout are of a fine light-colored freestone—laid in courses, with rough, undressed face. The appearance of the building is imposing, and equal to any in the land erected for a similar purpose. It contains two spacious and elaborately finished Halls for the use of the College Societies—six Recitation and Lecture Rooms, the Library of Kenyon College, and twenty-six rooms for students. The Tower is fitted up for an Observatory, and contains an Equatorial and Transit Telescope.

Directly north of Ascension, and about fifty yards from the village street, stands the Church of the Holy Spirit, which was finished in 1871. This most beautiful architectural gem was the gift of members of the Church of the Ascension, New York City, and of their former Rector, Bishop Bedell.

To the north and east of the village, and some distance from the main street, environed by trees, and commanding an extensive and beautiful prospect of the Valley of the Kokosing, stands Milnor Hall, built for the use of the Preparatory School. This is a plain structure of brick, the main building four stories high.

All of the above buildings, except Bexley and Milnor Halls, are in the College Park, an enclosure of about fifty acres, well shaded with forest trees. Here are also six dwelling houses, for the use of the Professors in Kenyon.

The election of Trustees of the Institutions is regulated by a Constitution which was adopted in 1824 by the Diocesan Convention, and was recognized in the act of Incorporation. Some changes have been made in the original constitution in the manner provided in the instrument. The Bishop of the Diocese has always been ex officio a member, and President of the Board; also, since 1860, the Assistant Bishop has been an ex officio member. The remaining members have been elected by the Diocesan Conventions, for terms of three years, in equal numbers from the clergy and laity. The number of elected Trustees, at first, was eight; in 1828, it was increased to twelve; in 1831, to sixteen; in 1834, it was reduced to twelve; it is now eighteen.

By a change in the Constitution, which took effect at the meeting of the Diocesan Convention in May, 1873, the Board of Trustees at present consists of the Bishops of all Dioceses in Ohio; the Assistant Bishop, if there be one, of the Diocese in which the Seminary is situated; the President of Kenyon College; four clerical and four lay Trustees, whose successors shall be chosen by the Board of Trustees, for terms of ten years; three clerical and three lay Trustees, whose successors shall be elected by Diocesan Conventions, for terms of three years; and two clerical and two lay trustees to be chosen by the alumni, who also are to choose the successors of these four, for terms of four years.
